HOMESCHOOL
CELEBRATING 20 YEARS

Here is what NWCS Homeschool families have to say.....

“We are seven years into our journey with NWCS Homeschool and continue to be impressed. The quality of the education and educators is excellent. Most of our kids have progressed through the elementary program into the secondary program and have been challenged in new and exciting ways. This year has included opportunities with the newspaper, robotics, a tour through PNW history, and leadership skills in ASB. We are excited about all the dual college credit opportunities that the program has worked hard to implement. We also love the families and friendships our kids have developed through this program.

The teachers not only care about our kids' academic growth but their personal and spiritual growth as well. I continue to be impressed with what they receive one day a week and the quality of content that comes home with them through the rest of the week. Their teachers are accessible and respond well to questions and feedback. And the administration and leadership of this program is excellent! We recommend this program enthusiastically and without reservation.”

“Our son Wyatt and now our son Oliver have both started the Homeschool program in their 7th grade years. Wyatt completed his 7th through 10th grade years in the program almost 2 years ago. He is now in his senior year as a running start student at EWU and is on the Honor Roll. At the end of this year Wyatt will receive a Good Student Scholarship. I give much credit to this wonderful program for his academic success. Our first year was a tough one for many reasons. I never realized how challenging it would be to give up control over my son's schooling and trust someone else to do the job and do it well. I joke around, but the first year felt like I gained 15 pounds and cried daily. Initially the work felt like a lot for my son and I needed to sit with him and help him to adjust, hence the weight gain and tears. I really did not know for sure that this was the program for us and left it open for other possibilities during that first year. God used my husband to tell me that we were staying with the program and I am so glad he did. We have a son that has a desire to do well in all that he does with school and one who is coming along. Wyatt is self-motivated and self-sufficient in his schooling and Oliver is developing those traits as well. When I looked at their schoolwork, after a couple of years in the program, there is so much improvement that it is hard to believe it is their work. Wyatt is well-rounded in his academics because of the different teachers he had over the years in the program. We are so impressed with Mrs. Wagley and Mrs. Stewart. Their guidance and direction are both tough and caring. They support their teachers 100% and at the same time are concerned for the families in the program, desiring their needs to be met. The transformation is worth the hard work and struggles! Our family has been blessed in many ways through the program. Thankful to our Lord and Savior for caring for us in this way.”

Here is what NWCS Homeschool families have to say.....

"Our family moved here from out of state last year and were directed to Northwest Christian Homeschool by our realtor (of all people). We are so SO glad we listened to his recommendation! Deanna and Ruth are amazing directors who truly care about home education and they love the families they serve. We keep saying over and over how thankful we are to have found this amazing school!"

"The homeschool program has been a wonderful experience for my children. It has taught my kids how to present orally in front of others, which is an important skill to have as they will have to present in front of people their entire lives. The program has prepared them for college in that the program offers structure, classes, grades and self-discipline to do their homework without as much teacher or parental guidance. Most importantly, it has taught my kids how to build purposeful relationships with their friends and teachers. This has been a great balance between homeschooling at home and sending our kids to class! Our kids now have the freedom to homeschool in higher level classes. We are amazed at how much learning and loving is packed into just one day a week."

"The NWC Homeschooling Program has very positively impacted the academic, spiritual and social growth of our four children. The quality of education at the secondary level is excellent... college-preparatory, creative and engaging. The enrichment program for elementary is truly a delight, with instructive and interesting class experiences and home assignments that strengthen our overall home education."
